CREATIVE ENGAGEMENT FOR BIODIVERSITY AWARENESS

Throughout 2024, the BioYouToon project successfully hosted a series of local workshops across Austria, Türkiye, Finland, and Germany. These workshops aimed to engage young individuals and youth workers in the realm of biodiversity conservation through creative storytelling and the innovative use of webtoons. Participants were introduced to the project's educational modules, participated in biodiversity walks, and collaborated on developing storyboards that reflect local environmental narratives.

Each workshop was tailored to its unique setting, fostering a connection between participants and their immediate natural environments. From exploring urban biodiversity corridors in Vienna to engaging with the rich ecosystems of İznik, the workshops provided immersive experiences that combined education with creativity. The collaborative efforts not only enhanced participants' understanding of biodiversity issues but also empowered them to become advocates for environmental conservation within their communities.
